

ABOUT LYNNE WHITE

It's a unique approach to give such intimate and warm service but Lynne White has successfully chosen to build her career for her clients and their campaigns in that way. With an incredible body of work spanning over 20-years, Ms. White has proven that both, multi-million dollar companies and boutique shops, form the same way—they are built by people who believe in their unique services and products and have a passion to move into or to maintain position in this massive marketplace.

Lynne White continues to harness creativity with technical excellence and utilize passion with intelligent thinking when writing, developing, producing, promoting for both corporate and entertainment industries. Her success is based on reaching the goals of her clients and assisting them in positioning themselves in the marketplace based on their own objectives—all the while—Lynne will help work in some of the “hopes and dreams” to that “marketing strategy”.

Lynne White doesn't do it alone... and she's the first to admit it. She embraces the fact that quality derives from specialized and innate talent. Over her expansive career, she's attracted and maintained a group of professionals that can produce quality, within budget, on time, and without fear in the ever-changing quagmire of technology.

The goal of success can be attained in many different ways and the journey is traveled through many different conduits. There are so many firms; who do you choose? You choose yourself. Lynne White, Hanavan Marketing & PR will guide you and help you in whatever you define as success.